

THE NEW YORK STORE

(ESTABLISHED 1855)

Flannel Department!

Yard Wide

Embroidered Flannels!

Colors and White.

The Embroidery on these goods is done in Worsted, and therefore are very excellent for washing. The combinations of colors in Flannel and Embroidery are in great variety, and the patterns are all new and choice. We have opened a large assortment, which we would be pleased to show at all times.

Prices Always in Plain Figures.

PETTIS, BASSETT & CO

JOS. A. MOORE,

84 E. Market St., Indianapolis, Ind.

Interest allowed on deposits, in sums of $5 and upward.
Money to Loan on Improved City and Farm Property in Indiana and Ohio.
City, County and Town Bonds, and Purchased Money Notes, bought and sold.
No loans made except such as are secured by first mortgage on real estate, with a large margin of security, or by collateral having a market value.
Foreign Exchange for sale on all parts of the world.

A. DICKSON & CO.

THIS WEEK

WE OFFER A

LARGE STOCK OF

New Jersey Waists

New Hamburg Edgings.

Best values we have ever offered.

A. DICKSON & CO.,

TRADE PALACE.

The Sentinel.

THURSDAY, MARCH 5.

SENTINEL TELEPHONE CALLS.

Business Office.....164; Editorial Rooms.....291

THE SENTINEL AT NEW ORLEANS.

To accommodate the throng from the Northwest who will desire to read their favorite home paper while attending the "World's Exposition," the Sentinel has been placed on sale in New Orleans at George F. Wharton & Bro's, No. 5 Carondelet street, between Canal and Common streets.

OLD PAPERS.

Good conditioned old papers for sale at this office at only 40 cents per hundred.

CITY IN BRIEF.

Work on the State House has been resumed.

A $5,000 permit was taken out yesterday for repairs on the Blackford Block.

Squire Smock fined William A. Smith for assault and battery on Mary Ripley.

The Knightstown House yesterday drew $3,072, and the Reform School $3,750.

Buell Post, G. A. R., of Brightwood, has moved his headquarters to Clifford avenue.

The Richmond Fire Alarm Company filed articles of incorporation yesterday. Stock, $200,000.

Dr. Hodges will lecture to the School of Trained Nurses this (Thursday) afternoon at 3:30. Subject, "Physiology of Respiration."

Mr. Nichols addressed the Tippecanoe Club yesterday afternoon at the Connelly Chamber on "The Life and Services of Henry Clay."

The Fire Department was called on two occasions early yesterday morning by reason of small fires, which were extinguished without difficulty and without loss.

The High School will be dedicated to-morrow evening. Governor Gray, ex-Governor Porter, Mayor McMaster, Superintendent J. W. Holcombe, W. A. Bell, and E. G. Kreider will speak.

Julius Frick, employed at McCona's stove store, was accidentally struck on the head with a brick and received a terrible gash. The brick was broken. The injured man will be laid up for several days.

Mrs. Mary A. Tukey, honorary Secretary of the Women's Auxiliary of the Board of Missions of the Episcopal Church, will visit this city to-morrow and will hold a conference with the ladies. The holy communion will be celebrated by Bishop Knickerbocker at St. Paul's at 10 o'clock, and Rev. E. A. Bradley and Mrs. Tukey will speak. A session of the conference will be held at 3 o'clock at Christ Church.

Fannie Lee and Chris Hardin were arrested yesterday for the alleged theft of a tub.

Nora Lawson yesterday had her husband arrested on a writ of the peace warrant in Squire Smock's Court.

Mr. Van Kannel, of Philadelphia, inventor of the Globe Gas Machine, is the guest of Charles T. Whitsett.

Thomas Carney, the new West Market Master, is doing good service. He has succeeded in squelching the roughs who heretofore made the West Market their loafing place on Saturday nights.

H. Forland, an artist of this city, has just finished two very handsome charcoal crayon portraits of Cleveland and Hendricks. He was kind enough to bring them to the Sentinel office yesterday for inspection.

The graduating exercises of the Indiana Dental College took place last evening in the lecture room of the institution. There were several graduates, and the exercises reflect much credit upon those participating.

The funeral of Linas H. Moores will take place to-day at noon, upon the arrival of the remains at the depot. The train reaches the city at 11:30 o'clock and the friends will immediately repair to the cemetery.

The Emmet Guards, in connection with other local orders, are making extensive arrangements for the proper celebration of St. Patrick's day, on Tuesday evening, March 17. The exercises will be held at Dickson's Opera House, with Hon. James H. Willard as orator of the day.

Two bills were signed by the Governor yesterday, one legalizing certain sales of real estate made by commissioners in proceedings by an executor or administrator, and another providing for the completion and equipment of the three additional insane asylums and for the support of the same.

AMUSEMENTS.

"HEARTS OF OAK."

This beautiful play continues to be great attraction at English's Opera House. It is a beautiful play—clean all the way through and intensely dramatic and interesting. Those who have not seen it should not allow the few remaining opportunities to pass by. It will be given to-night.

"VICTOR DURAND" AT THE GRAND.

To-night and during the remainder of the week at the Grand Opera House, we are to have the greatest New York dramatic triumph of the season, "Victor Durand," by Henry Guy Carleton, Esq. It was brought out at Wallack's Theater at the beginning of the season, and jumped into popular favor at once, running 100 nights. It will be presented here with the original Wallack cast, scenery and costumes, and the event promises to be a red-letter one in the dramatic annals of the city.

"Victor Durand" has been one of the few contemporaneous plays lately produced by an American that has pleased the critics. The cast embraces some of the best talent in the profession. Mr. George Clarke, formerly with the "Young Mrs. Winthrop" company, will enact the role of "Victor Durand." Mr. Charles Wessels, a well-known actor; Mr. Max Freeman, of the Lyceum Theater; Mr. J. Newton Gothdied, who was seen here in "La Belle Russe"; Mr. W. H. Denny, Mr. Fred Corbett and Mr. Rowland Buckstone, of Wallack's stock company, are members of the cast. Miss Sophie Eyre, an English actress, and who will be the leading lady of Wallack's next season, and now engaged with the theater, will enact the role of "Ruth." The others ladies are Miss Louise Dillon and Miss Agnes Elliott. This cast is exceptionally brilliant, and the engagement should prove the most noteworthy of the season.

NOTES.

Matinee at the Dime Museum to-day at 2. Drama and variety.

The Josely piano concert did not come off yesterday afternoon as advertised because of the illness of Josely.

We trust that our friends will remember the testimonial to be tendered Miss Minnie Turpen at Plafin's music rooms next Friday evening.

The Dime Museum continues to delight thousands daily and nightly, and the attractions in both curiosity hall and the auditorium are among the best of the season. Saturday will be children's day.

The attractions at the Grand Opera House next week will be Hoyt's funny farical comedy, "A Rag Baby," the first three nights of the week, and Hamilton's great spectacular pantomime, "Fantasma," the last three.

"The Three Wives to One Husband" Company leave to-day for Rockville and Terre Haute, where they fill out the week, opening on Sunday evening in St. Louis. The members of this company are all ladies and gentlemen, and have made many friends here.

An Obscure Case of Poisoning.

A curious case of poisoning has come to light in the family of Thomas Nesom, 217 South New Jersey street. Last Friday his two-year-old baby was taken sick by vomiting and some other signs resembling an irritant poison. Later, three other children complained in a similar manner, and even the father and mother were not exempt.

The family physician, Dr. Earp, believed that the food was the medium by which some poison had been taken into the system, and upon this theory he ordered all articles of food that were in the house at the time to be abandoned and fresh supplies procured. This being done all members of the family began to improve and are now approaching recovery. All though the cause is yet somewhat obscure yet the following is a possible and perhaps probable solution: Some Irish potatoes were found that bore marks of rats teeth, and it is supposed that poisoned meat has been carried to the potato barrel by these animals. The potatoes are undergoing an examination at present by the physician, and it is rumored that Paris green was found, but this is not positively known to be a fact.

Last Night's Fire.

An alarm of fire at midnight called the department to 29 Massachusetts's avenue, where the firm of F. Scheuchert & Co., picture frame dealers, do business. The rear of the building was in flames when the engines arrived, but it was soon under control and the fire extinguished. The loss is between $1,500 and $2,000; insured for $2,000.

Not a Fish but a Cat Story.

Patrolman Dawson recently took home a large dog which had taken a fancy to him, but this made trouble, an old cat which had been the pet of the household for years taking exception to the new comer. The dog continued to grow in favor and the cat grew consequently ugly and mean in disposition. Yesterday noon it had crawled under the stove to pout over the canine invasion where it had for so many years held the first place as pet. Mr. Dawson's three year old boy reached under the stove to caress the cat when it jumped at him in a terrible fury, scratching him on the face, hands and head in a frightful manner. The policeman thought matters had gone far enough and seized the cat by the hind legs and took it into the yard. Even then the cat scratched and fought desperately, and Mr. Dawson will carry marks of its claws on the back of his hand for some time. He then drew his revolver and shot the animal in the head. It ran back of a small shed and he followed it up and shot it again, and again it ran. Seven shots were fired into its brain before it died.

COURT-HOUSE LOCALS.

A Day of Little Interest in the Courts—The Criminal Court Work.

Frederick R. Barnforth has filed suit against Nancy J. Smith, to collect a note for $800 made last January. Demand, $1,000.

In the suit of Frances H. Legget against H. N. Gee, to set aside fraudulent conveyance, Judge Walker yesterday found for the plaintiff.

The Corn Exchange Bank, of New York, yesterday took judgment on a note in Room 3 against Thomas M. Dickson and others for $10,282.78.

Lucy McMahon, a colored girl, pleaded guilty to petit larceny in the Criminal Court yesterday, and was given ten days in jail, $1 fine, and a warning.

The County Board yesterday passed a number of small bills amounting to a little more than $300. They also inspected the bridge over Eagle Creek in Pike Township.

Henry Maar has filed suit for possession against Albert August Robert Handrick, to recover lot 47 in Kappes & Frank's subdivision of the southwest quarter of section 13. The amount involved is $750.

By order of Judge Taylor, Judge Rand, Receiver of the Indiana Banking Company, has declared another dividend of 10 per cent. Creditors are requested to call with their certificates and receive their money. This makes 30 per cent. paid out.

The will of Thomas Bair, deceased, was probated yesterday. The property is left to the widow, with the understanding that the home, on Blake street, and the farm shall not be sold till after her death, and it is then to be sold and the proceeds divided among the legal heirs.

Emma D. Schwing has filed suit for divorce from Edward Schwing, whom she married in May, 1883. She charges, for cause, that in 1884 Edward took to drinking, and became an habitual drunkard. November 24, 1884, he beat and choked her, and for this was arrested and taken before Squire Smock, where he was fined $10 and costs on a plea of guilty. Emma asks for alimony. Edward is thought to be in Chicago.

Wallace W. Brewer entered a plea of guilty yesterday to larceny in the Criminal Court. He admitted having stolen a watch and pawned it, but said he was drunk at the time and knew nothing about it. He says he came from New York State, and told such a story as induced Judge Norton to take the matter under advisement. If Brewer tells the truth his father was formerly Chief of the police force of a small city near Albany, New York.

The will of Charles D. Taylor, deceased, was probated yesterday. It leaves to Samuel Taylor and Martin V. Gilliland, in trust for his daughter, Anna L. Taylor, his personal property, such as furniture, library, pictures, silverware, watches, mining stocks, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of bequests are made to his father, brother, sister, wife and others, among them being fractional interests in the First Baptist Church and the Home Mission of the church for charitable work. Samuel Taylor, father of the testator, and Martin V. McGillicand are named as executors.

Winchester T. Wilson, of Shelby County, was arrested by the Sheriff of Boone County yesterday and brought through this far on his way to Lebanon, where he is under indictment. At this point a habeas corpus proceeding was begun, and Wilson was taken before Judge Norton. The basis of the action was that the indictment charged the defendant with selling without license, notes, etc., and $3,000 life insurance. A number of